Call for Technical Session Abstracts

ASIS International - Middle East is delighted to announce the 10th Security Conference and Exhibition, to be held at the Dhahran Expo - Dammam, Saudi Arabia from November 14 to 17, 2022, under the theme of "Strengthening Regional Resilience."

ASIS Middle East attracts the whole security value chain and this event connects the global security community to the region's industry leaders, ministries, state companies, governmental regulators and buyers.

Aali M. Al Zahrani, Vice President of Safety & Industrial Security, Saudi Aramco, and Senior Regional Vice President of ASIS Middle East, Group 12A, speaking at the ASIS Middle East 2019 opening ceremony

The Role of ASIS Middle East

The ASIS Middle East 2022 Conference, including its associated exhibition, will be an opportunity to:

- Gain firsthand insight from security professionals sharing their experience
- Identify major current and emerging opportunities, including market opportunities
- Showcase new technologies and/or new applications
- Present new ideas, approaches and research findings

The conference, officially supported by Aramco, will demonstrate Saudi leadership, innovation, and talent, working to advance security on the world stage. Leading professionals from within and outside the Kingdom will share their knowledge and expertise.

We are confident that it will enable interactive dialogue as well as first class networking opportunities. Further information on the event and highlights from ASIS Middle East 2019 can be found at www.asis-me.org
